Subject: Panorama: racism laid bare

Dear [REDACTED]

Our response to Panorama...

After seeing tonight's programme, no one can doubt that Labour is institutionally racist against Jews. Revelations this evening are a vindication of our decision to refer the Labour Party to the Equalities and Human Rights Commission, who are now investigating the Party for institutional racism.

Panorama has laid bare the corruption and political interference in Labour's process, and the toxic culture which allows Jew-haters to prosper in the Party.

We salute Sam Matthews, Lord McNicol and the other whistle-blowers who have defied legal threats and come forward to exposed Labour's racism. They should be applauded - and we demand the Party desist from any legal action against them.

Having uncovered clear wrongdoing throughout the Party - from people working directly for Jeremy Corbyn to local party officers, it is clear that those responsible need to be held accountable for their actions.

We must see action - sackings, suspensions and CLPs put in special measures.

But we still need your help...

Today's revelations are very significant. For the first time, whistle blowers have gone on the public record to attest to what we have suspected for some time. Our work to uncover the truth continues. we need your help to support our work with the EHRC.

Together with our top law firm Mishcon de Reya we are continuing our work to protect the interests of Jewish community and your interests as Jewish Labour members. Leading this is James Libson, a key member of the team that successfully defended historian Professor Deborah Lipstadt against the discredited antisemite and Holocaust denier David Irving.
